

Everything we collect from an applicant

A working list for review: the information we ask for, the documents we ask them to upload, the documents we prepare for them to sign, and the documents that need a notary or a witness. Please mark anything that is missing, unnecessary, or in the wrong pile.

Two things we would especially like checked. First, whether anything in the Interview column should in fact be uploaded with the application, or the reverse. Second, whether we are asking for anything the License Division does not want — we would rather stop collecting it than ask an applicant for a document that goes nowhere.

Gun License NYC is a document-preparation and case-management service. We are not attorneys and do not represent applicants before the NYPD License Division. The applicant files their own application.
